

M.B.B.S student Mr. Paarth Garg awarded Cancer Research Training Exchange Fellowship for Italy

Mr. Paarth Garg, a MBBS 4th year Era's Lucknow Medical College has recently attained the Cancer Research Training in Napoli, Italy sponsored by International Federation of Medical Students Association (IFMSA). In this exchange Mr. Paarth has worked on androgen, progesterone and estrogen receptors in Breast and Prostrate cancerous cell lines (LNCap, MDA, T47D and MCF-7). During his one month stay at Prof. Antimo Migliaccio laboratory at University of Seconda Universita Degli Studi, Mr. Garg learnt various day to day molecular biology techniques e.g. Western Blot, qRT-PCR, Imaging (Chemical & Florescent) and cell culture etc.

Mr. Garg has become the first undergraduate medical student from Uttar Pradesh to qualify for this prestigious fellowship. Every year Medical Students' Association of India under International Federation of Medical Students Association selects some students from India for Research Exchange to other Countries.

Dr. Farzana Mahdi, Director Academics appreciated and conveyed her best wishes to Mr. Garg.