

Hindustan Times

FIRST VOICE. LAST WORD.

World Congress on Clinical Nutrition

LUCKNOW: Era University will host the World Congress on Clinical Nutrition on November 26 and 27 that will have over three dozen international participants, as per a press statement from the university. The conference will discuss current issues and practices in clinical nutrition and the latest advances in the field. Senior scientists will be felicitated for their work during the event.